

PUBLIC CHRISTIANITY FOR A POST-CHRISTIAN WORLD

Join Amy Orr-Ewing and the Centre for Public Christianity for five fast-paced sessions on engaging Australia with the truth and beauty of the Christian faith.

Amy Orr-Ewing is Director of the Oxford Centre for Christian Apologetics (OCCA). The author of several books, Amy is also a widely sought-after international speaker, addressing audiences at the White House and on Capitol Hill, as well as in the UK Parliament.

- + - Is Christianity bad news for women?
- + - Does the media hate the church?
- + - How do we convey the goodness of Christianity to an increasingly sceptical public?
